Great Northern Railway Co'y May Develop Passburg Mines

Considerable credence is given to the rumor circulated to the effect that the Great Northern Railway are about to take over and operate the mines and coke ovens at Police Flats and Passburg, and that John R. MacDonald, until recently manager of the Franco-

Presentation To

J. R. MacDonald

The employees of the Franco-Canadian Collieries assembled in the church hall on Monday night for the purpose of making a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. John R. MacDonald. The hall was well filled. The chair was occupied by Mr. R. Nixon. Mr. Nixon's remarks were as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: You all know the object of our meeting here tonight—to bid farewell to Mr. MacDonald, who has resigned his position as manager of the local mines. We greatly regret that it is necessary for Mr. MacDonald to leave us, and we are here tonight to in some small measure show our appreciation of what he has done for us during his stay here."

The following musical programme was rendered:

Song, by George Fairbairn.
Song, by H. Drow.
Violin solo, by John Crawford.
Song, by Mr. Sudworth.
Solo, by Mrs. T. Moore.
Solo, by T. Brown.
Violin solo, by Miss Ostrander.
Song, by W. Shaw.
Mandolin solo, by P. M. Sherwin.

Mr. T. Davis was called upon to make the presentation to Mr. MacDonald on behalf of the employees. The following address was read and presented in neat form to Mr. MacDonald:

"Dear Mr. MacDonald: We have heard with deep regret of your decision to sever your connection with the Franco-Canadian Collieries, and we are gathered here tonight to express to you our sentiments."

For the past few years, since we have been manager of the mine, the community has enjoyed a period of prosperity, owing to your efficient management. We, the employees, have shared that prosperity as well as the Company.

During your stay with us, we have learned to trust in and depend on your leadership, feeling that any step you should take was perfectly safe for us to follow.

Your relations with us have always been friendly and congenial, so that it is not only as manager of the mine, but as a friend that we shall miss you. At work, our confidence in you brought us added satisfaction, because we knew that while you had to protect the Company's interest, that we also would receive our rights.

We have appreciated improved conditions under which we have had to work during your management, and your attitude that it was to the Company's interest that the men work under the best conditions. We also have appreciated your value in the community and your interest in all that was best for us when we were not at work.

Now that you are leaving us, we wish you and your family Godspeed in whatever work you undertake.

Signed,
The Employees of the Franco-Canadian Collieries."

In reply Mr. MacDonald, on behalf of Mrs. MacDonald and himself, thanked heartily the employees for their nice presentation, and desired also to thank them for their loyal support during his term of management. He felt that whatever success was attained had been greatly due to the splendid co-operation of the men in general. Unless such co-operation was complete it would have been impossible for the manager to attain such success. He wished to mention in closing that should his successor, Mr. Brown, who is so well known to all, experience difficulties such as he himself had to encounter, that the men should offer assistance, as man to man, and as a result would find that co-operation with Mr. Brown would have the same pleasant results.

The present included a beautiful parlor suite, valued at upwards of $200.

Several vocal and instrumental selections were rendered, and the meeting brought to a close with the singing of "God Save The King."

The Hudson Bay store at Lac St. Anne, which has been in operation over 150 years, is being closed.

Canadian Collieries' mines at Frank; will be manager of the G.N.R.'s operations.

The mines at Passburg and Police Flats have been closed down for over two years. The plant and coke ovens are among the most modern and best equipped in the west.

Letter From

Samuel Wallace

The following is a synopsis of a letter received by Mrs. Samuel S. Wallace at Westville, N.S., from her husband, who is somewhere in France, and which may be of interest to many of Sam's friends in the Cross' Nest Pass:

"I received two letters from you yesterday. Glad you are still well, also the boys. I am going on past Tuesday, 30th (January), for ten days. Have not made up my mind where I will go. I am going to have a day or two in London, and as a sick fool I am free transportation. I can go where I like. I may go back to Berlin for a day or so, but have not made up my mind. You spoke about my scars. Well, you will have a hard time to find them. Although I had a few one time, none of them were really bad, and that wire from Ottawa was a joke. They must have got me mixed up with somebody else. I kept a diary for a while on the Somme. I may as well write some of it to you as to let me think, and did while waiting for Fritz to start something. I found the book that I wrote in on the 18th of October. We were looking for souvenirs on our second visit to the Somme. I also found an identity disc and a watch. Found two. Huns, and buried them to get rid of them, but got scared stiff while doing so. On October 18th I had a visit from friend McGrath, who got buried in his dugout by a coal box, hence his visit extended till morning. He was killed on the 17th. Found a three pistol (German), took it apart to see how it worked, and it was very simple. Examined German equipment."

"I don't believe it is as good as our. At 10 p.m. called to see Wilde in Sing Sing doghouse (so called because we could not visit in daylight on account of snipers). He had found tea and sugar that the Huns had left when the boys went out a day or two before. We had a good cup of tea and returned 'home.' On the 19th we could not look out at all—shelling all day. On the 20th, came to billets for forty-eight hours' rest. On the 21st, went to assist the 12th brigade. They made a successful advance. On the 22nd, advanced into line of the 10th brigade to attack in the morning. The 27th, the attack failed, though bravely done. 4th battalion badly handled. Relieved same evening, too tired out. November 17th, ordered to front line 50th battalion, to go over parapet in next morning. All the trench mortar battery as bombers in the attack. Went over on the 18th in German line. Got mine after we entered German trench. The 19th, 11 a.m., admitted to Canadian general hospital, Letrepost, France. Left for Blighty on 27th and admitted to 1st southern general hospital on the 29th, to Harrogate Hall military hospital on December 3rd, to Monk's Horton convalescent hospital on January 3rd, to Canadian casualty assembly centre on the 7th and Canadian convalescent division on the 12th. Now feeling o.k."

Red Cross Concert

What promises to be a most pleasant and interesting entertainment will be put on by two returned soldiers, Private Peat and Trooper Jerrett, at the local opera house on Friday night of next week, under the auspices of the Blairmore branch of the Red Cross Society. Part of the proceeds will go to the Red Cross fund.

Pe. H. R. Peat was connected with the Alberta University staff at Edmonton before enlisting. He left with the 3rd Battalion, 1st Canadian contingent, was wounded at Ypres, and after spending five months in hospital, was discharged disabled and returned to Alberta.

The first four months after his return he devoted his entire time and abilities to the Red Cross, raising for them over $4,000.00 quite free of all expense. He now still gives a good percentage of all his entertainment proceeds to the Red Cross and other patriotic bodies.

Pe. Peat is a very clever speaker and he has as his tell is not only thrilling, but very highly amusing, for he dwells mostly on the lighter side of life as it is in the trenches.

Trooper Jerrett, of the Mounted Rifles, Edmonton, has made thousands of laughs all over Alberta and British Columbia, and is an old hand as an entertainer.

These two boys are spoken of most highly by the press all over the west.

Switzerland's Navy

Sea Power Played a Great Part in Country at One Time

To speak of a Swiss navy sounds ridiculous or merely frivolous. It is a fact, nevertheless, that ironclads have sailed on the waters of Lake Lemman, and that to the "mastery of the sea," the castle of Chillon owed its invulnerability for many years. "Sea power" played a great part in the protracted struggle between Geneva and the Counts of Savoy. About 1590 Geneva appointed an admiral in charge of the fleet; in 1616, the post was filled by Noble Gattin; his flagship, the Soleil, carried ten pieces of ordnance. The naval dockyard was on the island des Barques, which is now the island of Jean Jacques Rousseau.—Christian Science Monitor.

As a vermouth there is nothing so potent as Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, and it can be given to the most delicate child without fear of injury to the constitution.

Some time ago, when a local corral was reviewed by Sir Ian Hamilton, one officer was mounted on a horse that had previously distinguished itself in a bakery business. Somebody recognized the horse, and shouted "Baker!" The horse promptly stopped dead, and nothing could urge it on.

The situation was getting painful when the officer was struck with a brilliant idea, and remarked, "Not today, thank you." The procession then moved on.

Tree Planting

Planting a Thousand Trees a Day by Machinery

A machine originally designed to facilitate the work of setting out tomato and cabbage plants, is being used to plant trees in New York State under the supervision of the Forest Service. From 1,000 to 15,000 forest tree seedlings are planted in a day's time with this machine. The contrivance of about the same proportions as a mowing machine and requires the services of three men and two horses. One man drives while the other two handle the seedlings. In operation, the machine makes a trench in which the seedlings are set, and then the small trees are dropped at regular intervals governed by an automatic spacer. As this is done, a pair of rollers replace the dirt about the roots, which are mechanically supported by water and fertilizer. A marker draws the line on which the next row of trees is to be planted as the machine travels along.

Artificial Milk

A process has been discovered in England for the manufacture of artificial milk for human consumption. It is claimed that a wholesome and inexpensive substitute can be made from peanuts, soy beans, sugar, water, and the mineral salts found in milk. The milk so produced, it is stated, may be condensed and sold in this in the usual way or dried to a powder and sold in bottles. It may be given a certain percentage of cream by the addition of coconut oil or one of the other tasteless nut fats. The residual meals, rejected after the special factors required have been taken from them, are mixed, dried until they contain only ten per cent of water, and used as food for cattle. As a curiosity, the "milk" thus produced would be interesting. Though it is questionable whether it would prove an acceptable substitute.

The Breaking Dawn

Where the U-Boat Fails

Taken by itself the presence of a German surface raider in the open seas impresses one with a sense of Teutonic daring and resourcefulness. It also suggests a limitation of Teutonic achievement. Why should a surface boat, vulnerable to attack and almost certain to be run down eventually, be sent out if a submarine could be made to do the work? The answer seems to be that, great as has been the German advance in the construction of under-sea vessels, these craft still have their distinct limitations and are as yet unavailable for independent, hand-on-mouth, cruises. They can operate effectively within reach of a base and can make stated cross-sea voyages, but they have still to prove themselves serviceable as tramp adventurers.—Detroit Free Press.

PALE, FEEBLE GIRLS

Weakness Generally Comes On As Womanhood Approaches

Girls upon the threshold of womanhood often drift into a decline in spite of all care and attention. How often does one see girls who have been strong and lively become suddenly weak, depressed, irritable and listless. As the dawn of womanhood a crisis in the life of every girl—and prompt measures should be taken to the blood pure and rich with the red tint of health. If the blood is not healthy at this critical stage the body is weakened and grave disorders follow. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved thousands of young girls from what might have been a lifelong invalidism or an early death. They are a blood-builder of unequalled richness strengthening weak nerves and producing a liberal supply of red, healthy blood which every girl did not have my life. In 1914 I began to feel run down, and the doctor who was called in said that mine was a bad case of anemia. I lost flesh, always felt tired, and I got so nervous that I could scarcely hold a cup or take a drink. My heart would flutter alarmingly. The doctor did not seem to be able to help me, so I thought that I was a declaire and could not recover. I was in bed for some weeks when I saw an advertisement for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I bought a supply, and by the time I had taken three boxes there was a noticeable improvement, and from that on I steadily progressed toward recovery.

My health is now so good that I can now do all the work I want to do, and I am now a healthy, happy girl. I can now do all the work I want to do, and I am now a healthy, happy girl. I can now do all the work I want to do, and I am now a healthy, happy girl.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box and three boxes for $2.00 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mid-Summer

As the oats in her hat nodded and trembled they persistently tickled the ear of the man seated next to her. He stood in silence for some time, then he ostentatiously took a huge pocket knife out of his pocket and began to sharpen it on the sole of his boot.

"Whatever are you g-g-going to do?" asked the girl.

"Oh, don't you worry miss," said the man, testing the edge of the pocket knife. "I am just sharpening it for some time, as those oats gets in my ears there's going to be a harvest."—Chicago Daily News.

THE GERMAN IDOL

Hindenburg Eclipse the Kaiser in Eyes of Germans

The extent to which Hindenburg is eclipsing the German Emperor has been remarked upon throughout Germany, says the Zurich correspondent of the Central News. It is Hindenburg who has the courage to tell the German people that their production of munitions is being overtaken by the Allies; it is Hindenburg, not Hohenzollern, who, after two and a half years of warfare, demands of the German people the great sacrifice of the levy en masse. The Kaiser, at this critical of all moments, is content to remain in the background, leaving Hindenburg to command not only "my armies," but also "my people."

Not all the blood of the Hohenzollerns has been able to save the Emperor William from eclipse at this supreme crisis.

At a press moment Hindenburg appears in German eyes as Bismarck and Moltke rolled into one. "Hindenburg has confidence," says a manifesto issued by the German Union of Agriculturalists, "and with him and by him all the German people have confidence in him."

Not only the Kaiser himself but the whole Hohenzollern dynasty is suffering eclipse. The Emperor is a great war hero, but his reputation is being threatened by the downfall of Prussian militarism. I hear on every side that, especially since his ignominious failure at Verdun, the crown Prince is spoken of everywhere in Germany in terms of contempt.

2,000,000 Pie Plates a Day

One Factory That Is Trying to Keep Up With the Demand

There is a pie-plate factory at Fairfield, Me., that turns out no fewer than 2,000,000 pie plates a day. They are made from wood fibre. If these plates were laid in the adjoining fields, they would make a carpet covering two hundred and thirty-eight million square feet, and it they were placed on edge, just touching, there would be a line seventy-four thousand two hundred and forty miles long in a year. Seventeen styles of plates are made in this factory, and each machine will turn out one hundred and thirty-six a minute. Girls count and pack these plates very rapidly, and an expert can do fifty thousand a day.

The most interesting process in this factory is that which goes on in the drying rooms, and there are thirty miles of pipes carrying the steam so as to heat these rooms. Scientifically the hot air becomes saturated with moisture from the drying plates, and every twenty-four hours cold air is pumped through the moisture condensers, and for a few minutes there is an indoor shower.

MRS. WILLIAMS SAYS USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She Suffered for Two Years, But Three Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Her a New Woman

Adams & Sons, Ltd., N. B. (Special)—"I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to every woman who suffers from kidney trouble. My wife, Mrs. Williams, a well-known and highly respected lady residing here, Mrs. Williams was a sufferer for two years, till she used Dodd's Kidney Pills. She found in them quick relief and complete cure. Her kidneys are now so healthy that she is so enthusiastic in her praise of them.

"My troubles started with a cold," Mrs. Williams states. "I never seemed to get over the effects of it. I had cramps in my muscles and my joints were stiff. There were dark circles under my eyes which were puffed and swollen. I had a bitter taste in my mouth and I suffered from severe headaches.

"I felt heavy and sleepy after meals and had attacks of neuralgia. Heart fluttering and rheumatism were soon added to my troubles. I took just three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I cannot be too glad that I did so.

Every one of Mrs. Williams' symptoms disappeared. I am now free of kidney disease. That is why Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

Dairy Stable Like a Home

Out in Portland, Oregon, Cows are Treated With Consideration

Several features strike the visitor to the stable of a certain dairy in Portland, Ore., as quite remarkable. Pictures hang upon the walls, ferns are placed about the stanchions; the windows are screened and covered with fragrant curtains; the floors are doubly scrubbed and at one side of the stable is an enamel wash-bowl with running water. Such unusual conditions are due, in part at least, to rivalry which has sprung up among the Portland dairymen, who must obey city rules regarding the production of clean milk. At this dairy each cow is bathed before entering the stable and her bag washed with warm water, soap, and a freshly laundered cloth. The milk is strained through sterilized cotton batting. The cows are never hurried or frightened, and on returning from the pasture are allowed to move along leisurely. The milk in this dairy has improved considerably in purity, the number of bacteria found in it being much lower than in milk from the average dairy.

The superintendent remained cool. "Well, sir," he said, "I don't know that we are to blame for that. What do you expect us to do? Get her a new dress?"

"No, sir. I do not intend to let you off so easily as that," the other man replied gruffly. He brandished in his hand a small piece of silk.

Britain's New Problem

In spite of all warnings that it was unwise in the extreme for wives and families of Canadian soldiers to follow their husbands and fathers overseas, it is estimated there are now over 50,000 of these dependents there causing uneasiness. There are two disquieting views of the situation: First, the fact that it means so many more mouths to feed in the old country at a time when economy in food consumption is essential; second, that the transportation of these people back to Canada at the end of the war will be a problem that steamship companies confess themselves unable to solve.—London Advertiser.

Pills For The Automobilious

Here's the latest. "A chemist in New York displays a check paid for invention to prove that he devised a solidified gas which can be molded into pills. A clear box of these pills, costing $30 will take an automobile all the way across America. The invention will be naturally hailed, not merely by automobile owners, but by those who have not been able to afford a car. Mr. Dally has told us that all the delights of sleeping car travel can be enjoyed by anyone who put a cinder in his eye and recline upon the mantlepiece. Similarly all the sensations of an easy and costly joy ride may be experienced, no doubt, by merely swallowing a couple of these pills. With closed eyes the captive imagination will perceive the delicious aroma of gasoline in combustion, the tympanum will be agreedly shocked by the concussion of exploding tires, and it only remains to address to oneself now and then a firm in order to complete the realism. The cost of the package and the salary of the chauffeur may be struck from the budget, and the money saved may be devoted to the black diamond and pearl necklace.
Soon at the nearest drugstore, the upholstered limousine will be waiting the withdrawal of the cork, and the victim of auto-invention engaged in putting a great mileage between themselves and the busiest work will bestow the averts like wounded men upon the battlefield.

National Service

One of the most valuable of recent literary contributions to the great cause is a booklet by Professor Stephen Leacock, entitled "National Organization for War." In this booklet, Dr. Leacock makes an urgent call for national thrift and national saving. He attacks in vigorous style the evils of extravagance at this crisis in Canada's history, and by revelant phrase and apt illustration disposes of various common errors in regard to individual spending of money during war time.

This pamphlet was originally published by Dr. Leacock himself, but the National Service Board were so convinced of its value in connection with their Thrift Campaign that they have had it republished and have undertaken its distribution. Copies may be obtained by writing to the Secretary of the National Service Board at Ottawa, or by applying to the National Service Director in any Province.

Statistics show that the majority of business failures on the American continent occur where newspapers are least patronized.

Griffins are a high, narrow animal found in the circuses and delirium tremens.

It has a ten-story neck and no use for
it. We often wonder why is a griffin's neck, anyhow. The griffin probably wonders, too. It's so long the poor thing could choke to death at one end and never know it at the other. And it keeps its head so far from the ground that every time it looks down it's afraid the head will drop off.

But he's not hold the griffin too strictly to account for his neck.

He probably started out to be a bon constrictor and forgot about it.

The only person that ever envied a griffin was a small boy on the wrong side of the fence at a ball game.

"The Man in The Moon"

Girls, girls, girls, and funny comedians will lend enchantment to the scene with the merry, mystic, Turkish musical comedy production "The Man in The Moon," that will be the attraction at the Blair-more opera house on Thursday night next.

"There's a long, long trail,"
"Hondola Blues," and "They called it Dixie Land," are a few of the popular, shielding numbers that will be heard in this musical fun fest. The scenic environments that produce Hyatt has the production mounted on will pass the eye of the most critical, and will be the cause of much comment. S. G. Davidson, the fanciful with the show, will be heard in his famous songs.

The initiatory degree was conferred on four candidates at the regular meeting of the local I.O.O.
F. lodge on Tuesday night of this week.

R. Alexander returned from Ontario on Monday.

Ed the lame Dummer, who is singing, is getting on nicely.

A very successful masquerade dance was given at the Temperance school-house on Friday last. The dance was well attended and many splendid costumes were worn. One splendid new feature was the auction sale of home-made candy, which brought close on to twenty dollars. Altogether, some sixty odd dollars were taken in. Proceeds go toward the Red Cross and Patriotic funds.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church gave their monthly social at the manse on February 25th. Like the preceding events, it was pronounced a decided success. There were over fifty people present, and all had a good time. The programme was good, and each artist did his or her part well. Harvey O'Harrigan, in his usual good form, gave some of his popular songs, which were enjoyed by all. The prize for the guessing competition was won by Mrs. McIvor, and consisted of a box of home-made candy, donated by Miss Kippan.

Don't forget the masquerade dance, to be held in the Workers' hall on March 19th. Proceeds are to go to the Red Cross, so come and help the cause along.

To the rest left vacant in the British Columbia legislature by the death of Mr. Ralph Smith his widow may be elected. Once in politics, women may show themselves to be the fair sex in another sense of the word. So remarks the editor of The Mail and Empire.

The Professor's Bulletin

No. 10. The Bulletin this week will be devoted to the discussion of two questions which have been raised by correspondents. I agree thoroughly with Mr. Alex. Donaldson, of Calgary, in his criticism of my use of the adverb "equally" in Bulletin No. 7. As used by me on the occasion specified, the word "equally" is certainly tautologous. I thank Mr. Donaldson for drawing my attention to the circumstances; for I think he will agree with me that one of the commonest mistakes in the speaking and writing of English is the use of tautologous words and phrases. Our friend has therefore done us a great favor; and the virtue of the correction is not less because, in this instance, it is "the professor" himself who has been caught napping. Underlying this mistake, however, and explanatory thereof, is another one. The fact of the matter is that instead of the word "equally" I ought to have used the adverb "quite"—making the sentence read, "Denmark suffers from the blockade quite as much as, if not more than, Holland." Here, the word "equally" is inserted deliberately, for the purpose of giving point and emphasis to the phrase "as much as." For this use of the adverb, compare the phrase, "just as much as," "fully as much as."

Of course, it ought to be clearly understood that the correction which I have made above, at the suggestion of Mr. Donaldson, does not effect, to the slightest extent, the point of the original discussion, which had reference to the omission of the second "as" from the phrase "as much as."

Well, I find that I have already consumed a reasonable amount of space, and deem it advisable to postpone the discussion of the point raised by "One of the Opposition." I promise him that I will answer his question in Bulletin No. 11.

Supt. Cotterell, of the C.P.R., Lethbridge, was in town with engineers of the company, looking over the work being done by the steam shovel in the slide. Recruits Urgently Needed For Divisional Engineers

Whenever a large number of men are gathered together, there is a great amount of engineering work needed. Just as a city needs all kinds of engineers and mechanical tradesmen to make the population comfortable and healthy, so the Canadian Army in France needs the Canadian Engineers. There is not a great deal of difference in the engineering work necessary, except that in the Army all luxuries are eliminated.

The Canadian Engineers carry on behind the fighting lines much in the same way that the works department of a community would carry on in Canada; and to handle the work properly and efficiently the Canadian Engineers' companies must include in proper proportion of all kinds of engineers, mechanics, and men with trades.

Because of the smallness of the Canadian Engineer Unit in France in the early days of the war, it was found necessary, in order to get all the engineering work done, to provide "working parties" from the Infantry, the Pioneers, and other units, which working parties would "carry on" under the supervision of the Canadian Engineers.

Thus the Sapper (as the Private in the Canadian Engineers is called) became really a foreman, handling a working party of as many as 150 men in some instances.

For instance, if the Engineers have to put up lints for rest billets, the Engineer Officer will arrange for a working party of carpenters from the Infantry, and this working party will be directed by one or more of the Sapper companies, depending upon the amount of work to be done. Same in other branches of the Engineer work: the Sapper plumber will direct work of "working parties" in water supply work; the Sapper with experience in road construction will direct "working parties" in that line of work.

Often happens, of course, that a Sapper will supervise "working parties" in classes of work entirely apart from the kind of work he has been used to in civil life, but the special training which he will receive in the Canadian Engineers will fit him for this work.

The Canadian Engineers can only take men who are qualified and the man who is qualified is fortunate, since he can join with the Engineers, do his duty to his country, take his part in this great war, and at the same time be assured that his experience and skill, developed in civil life, will be utilized to the greatest extent in his work in the Army.

Men who are interested in the Engineers should write to either of the following recruiting officers:—Mr. F. W. Downer, Victoria Mansions, Lethbridge; Lieut. W. Parker, Recruiting Officer, Medicine Hat; or Capt. F. H. Peters, Officer Commanding, Drafts, Divisional Engineers, 215-8th Ave. East, Calgary, Alta.

"Well," answered the bucolic one, "I reckon I got a pretty good start on most people by being born afore germ was discovered, an' so I have had less to worry about."

British claimants of the German prize ship Appam, at Newport News, Va., won their suit in the supreme court to regain possession of the vessel and cargo. In sustaining the British libel attachment suit against the Appam, and cargo, the court held that the British owners are entitled to restitution because the Appam violated American neutrality.

A woman in Montreal was giving her baby a bath; the doorbell rang; her little girl ran down stairs to open the door; she fell; her mother ran after her and picked her up dead; she went back to her baby; the baby was drowned in the bath; the call at the door was a messenger boy with a telegram telling that her husband was killed at the front; the poor woman went mad, and was taken to an asylum. The Lokai Anzeiger, a German paper, in discussing the reports that American merchantmen are sailing into the war zone in defiance of the German orders makes the blasphemous statement that "the plan for such sailings amounts at bottom to nothing else than most wickedly tempting God."
